

Earnings Call Transcript (Q4 2025)

Operator: Welcome to Acme Financial Technologies' Fourth Quarter 2025 Earnings Call.

CEO: We delivered strong revenue growth of 14% this year despite a challenging macroeconomic environment. Demand for our analytics platform exceeded expectations.

Analyst: Can you explain why operating expenses increased faster than revenue?

CEO: The primary drivers were investments in artificial intelligence, fraud prevention systems, and expanded cybersecurity infrastructure. These investments support long-term growth but may temporarily compress margins.

Analyst: What risks concern management heading into 2026?

CEO: Competition remains intense, particularly from newer fintech entrants. Additionally, uncertainty surrounding consumer spending and regulatory changes may impact growth.

Analyst: What are your expectations for 2026?

CEO: We expect revenue growth in the high single digits. While growth may slow compared to 2025, we believe our investments in analytics and fraud detection will strengthen our competitive position.
